

Job Description – Business Analyst

ABOUT THE PROJECT AND THE TEAM:

We are building our own product and also helping companies build great tools, platforms and successful stories.

We are looking for a Business Analyst to be part of the team, full-time and help us shape different tech projects.

You will be involved in:

- Data analysis. Obtain and vet data, develop and execute quantitative analyses with (potentially incomplete) data, cross-check results to identify potential inconsistencies or limitations. Define detailed functional requirements, process flow diagrams, and business cases; including gap and impact analysis;
- Business insights. Understand business implications of observations, interviews, and analyses;
- Leadership. Coordinate cross-functional teams to execute key value creation (top and bottom line) and manage transformation initiatives;
- Communication. Craft polished written communications and deliver oral communications of findings and recommendations in an effective and efficient manner;
- Influence. Collaborate positively with project stakeholders to secure support and implement recommendations in a fast-paced environment;
- Strategy. Develop business segment strategies, research markets & competitors, articulate value propositions, and identify growth opportunities;
- Problem structuring. Identify key issues, develop hypotheses and methodology to verify or refute them;
- Project management. Clearly scope and track projects, develop and assign workstreams, maintain a steady pace, and ensure reliable delivery; influence and negotiate high impact projects or high-cost expenditures and manage the execution of them;
- Other. Support other corporate strategy responsibilities as needed, including strategic planning, market research, mergers and acquisitions, and competitor benchmarking.

Contact: We work with Fabrika HR as our recruitment agency.

contact@fabrikahr.com